

Prompt Library for Sales & Operations Teams

This prompt library is designed for Operations teams in optimizing their workflows through the use of generative AI. By leveraging AI as a thinking partner, these prompts aim to enhance decision-making processes, reduce cognitive load, and ensure efficiency in the quality of output and work. The library focuses on tasks such as generating system documentation and translating business requirements. Each prompt is carefully crafted as best as possible to the use case to ensure clarity, and relevance, helping the organization achieve the best desired results and output

Usage Guidelines

1. Input Clarification: Ensure you provide clear inputs for the AI to work with. Use the clarification rules in each prompt if uncertainties arise and follow the prompt structure
2. Following the Structure: Adhere to the output formats specified in each prompt to maintain consistency and readability in AI outputs.
3. Review and Iterate: Utilize the recursive self-review instructions within each prompt to double-check AI-generated outputs for accuracy and completeness.
4. Customization: Feel free to adjust any rules or constraints based on specific project or use case while maintaining the core structure of the prompts.

1. Drafting Client emails

Task:

Draft concise professionally toned emails to be sent to clients relating to acknowledgement of their interest claims in the treasury business with an assigned ticket number

Context

This email will be sent externally to highly sensitive clients of the company and attention requires to be given to the tone and length of the email. This is an externally critical task and will help the growth and revenue of the company. The subject will be mostly related to why their payments were received past the desired value date.

Rules:

The email should be simple, engaging, provide confidence to the client that the company is working/ provided a solution on their issue, avoid jargons, long paragraphs and fluff. State the purpose, the desired action and the next steps. It should contain also detailed reasoning on why this happened and how to prevent this going forward

Example: Please use the attached email as a reference on how the email should be drafted

Format: The email should not be more than 3-4 sentences and should not be in bullet format. End the email with a signature of the company name and its logo. Use the subject Line. "Thank you for contacting ABC Ltd"

Clarification Rules:

Ask clarifying questions if unclear, do not rush to an answer

Chain-of-Thought Reasoning:

- Act like a professional senior manager with vast experience in treasury and claims process. Think step by step how banking and institutional clients would want to receive emails on the back of an important query which will make them feel satisfied and provide appreciation in return.

Recursive Self-Review Instructions:

- After drafting, review for missing parameters or unclear sections.

2. Document SOP or internal Processes

Task:

Provide a detailed process overview of Treasury transaction Banking process. You are supposed to explain the responsibilities of the function, risk and control, instances which are time critical in nature and other stakeholder with which the team works on a regular basis.

Context

This document will be used to train new joiners, for any internal and external audit requirements and also for any leadership requirements. This document is extremely important to maintain control and to build depth within the organization

Rules:

The document should be well structured, high level and not heavily detailed as it is only a process overview. Keep the verbiage simple and avoid long paragraphs. The document should have details which are clearly outlined relating to what the function is about, the global coverage of teams, what currencies and activities are handled by each region, the risk and control framework and stakeholders with which the treasury transaction banking team works

Example: Please use attached reference document of another team within the treasury department as an example to draft the SOP document

Format: The output format should be in bullet points and should be structured exactly like the below

1. Overview
2. Global Team Coverage
3. Rials managed by Transaction Banking
4. Risk and Control items
5. Business Unit Stakeholders

6. Escalation Contacts

Clarification Rules:

Ask clarifying questions if unclear, do not rush to an answer

Chain-of-Thought Reasoning:

Act like a professional senior manager with vast experience in treasury and transaction banking
Think step by step how to draft a process overview document in best structured way in layman terms where it is easily understandable for onboarding new joiners and senior leadership

Recursive Self-Review Instructions:

- After drafting, review for missing parameters or unclear sections. Once any of these gaps are identified then rewrite the SOP taking these insights into consideration

3. Generate Performance Feedback

Task:

Generate a performance feedback summary for employees of the treasury division across all role titles. This is a 360 degree feedback process where feedback from other colleagues will be documented for a team member and you need to summarise their feedback into a manager 's summary

Context:

This will be their annual performance feedback from January to December. This feedback summary is extremely important to understand where our team members have performed well this year and aspects where they have scope for improvement and development. This feedback summary will be used by managers to deliver the feedback and also to decide their bonuses and increments. So this is a very important task

Rules:

The feedback summary should be easily understandable in short crisp sentences which should be easily understandable. The summary also should contain examples in both strengths and development areas from the feedback given from their nominated reviewers if any, which can serve as key takeaways for the team member to whom the feedback is being given to. The final recommendation section should be balanced from both strengths and weakness perspective which ensures the team member is motivated to do better after the feedback is delivered

Example

Use the reference document of last year 's performance feedback for Rohan. Refer to the language, structure and format to draft the performance feedback summary

Format:

The format should be strictly followed as per the below

1. Employee details: Name and Employee ID
2. Start with a brief 4-5 line summary in paragraph form giving a high level summary of the team member 's overall performance
3. Strengths: Bullet Points with examples
4. Development Areas: Bullet Points with examples
5. Final Recommendation

Chain-of-Thought Reasoning:

Act like a professional senior manager with vast experience and is conducting a structured objective performance review in a corporate MNC. Think step by step before jumping to conclusions on any person 's feedback, carefully review every team member 's feedback from their nominated reviewers then only draft the manager 's summary
